The Magic of the Far North : Diego Suarez & Nosy Be

Madagascar's Northern Region offers several outstanding natural sites and idyllic beaches. The mythical city of Diego Suarez, whose history is immortalized by its ancient fortifications dating from the colonial period, can not leave you indifferent.

The West : Descent of Tsingy de Bemaraha and the Baobab Alley

Miandrivazo is the boat for the descent of the river Tsiribihina for rare birds, lemurs and crocodiles of the Nile. The Tsingy de Bemaraha National Park, is made up of small and big Tsingy, and features semi-arid landscapes decorated with baobabs. A beautiful sunset on the baobab alley will be immortalized by a photoshoot.

The East Tropical : Crossing the Pangalanes

The crossing of the Canal of Pangalanes to reach Akanin'ny Nofy (or the "Dream Nest") is peaceful and quiet, also known for the warm and cheerful welcome of the Betsimisaraka people that will be crossed along the canals.

Wonders of the South Road : Tuléar

The South Region is renowned by Massif of Isalo and Andringitra Mountain. It is characterized by the highland landscape dotted with rice-cropped field, traditional houses built in red soil, and the typically Malagasy "tamboho" or "walls" found nowhere else.
